Nothing.
A ragged and dejected child, with an untidy baby on her knee, looked up as the district visitor entered the room.

"Are you alone?" asked the lady.
"Yes."
"Where is your mother?"
"Hospital."
"And your father?"
"Don't know."
"Good gracious! Does he do nothing to support you and your mother?"
"Yes."
"What does he do, my child?"
"What you said—nothing!"

Feet Felt Stupid.
Walter had been curled up in the big armchair in the living room for a long time, reading his newest book. Suddenly deciding to run out and play for a while, he got up and started to limp across the room. Dad looked at him, rather surprised at first, and then questioned the youngster.
"What are you limping for, Walter?"
"Oh, I dunno, dad," was the reply, "only my feet feel awful stupid." His feet were asleep.—Exchange.

"Those Who Dance Must Pay The Fiddler"

There's a settlement in profit or loss, for nearly every indulgence.

Sometimes the pay day is long deferred, and in that case the settlement may bear compound interest.

Often a payment in ill health is required for the dance had with tea or coffee during earlier years. Sometimes the collection comes in sleeplessness, sometimes in headaches, sometimes in high blood pressure, or in nervous indigestion—sometimes in all these penalties.

Nerves won't always stand the whipping of tea and coffee's drug, caffeine.

If you've been dancing to tea or coffee's fiddling, why keep on till payment time comes? If you're beginning to pay, now, why not cancel the contract?

There's an easy and pleasant way to avoid tea and coffee's penalties, as thousands have found who have changed to Postum. It is a delight with any meal—rich, comforting and satisfying—and it never harms. Even the little children can have a breakfast cup of Postum, with no fear for what may happen to sensitive nerves.

Instead of paying penalties for your meal-time drink, let it pay benefits to you, by giving natural health a full chance—and begin the new arrangement today. Any grocer will sell you, or any good restaurant will serve you Postum.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tin) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

AFRAID OF EARTHQUAKE

Years ago Ping Bodie came up to the big show from San Francisco. He had never heard thunder out in California, and one night in St. Louis one of the old-fashioned Missouri thunder storms broke. Ping was shooting pool in the basement of the hotel when the fierce growl of it boomed out.

Ping dropped his cue, and slid feet first under the table. To him that rumble meant an earthquake, and a pool table was an excellent protection against falling ceilings. The big leaguers never have forgotten that, and kidded Ping about it up to the day he left last company.

POOR TACKLING BIG FAULT IN FOOTBALL

Flaw Apparent in Almost Every Contest of Note.

Particularly Noticeable in Princeton-Yale Game When Yale's Captain Aldrich Was Permitted to Make First Touchdown.

Poor tackling has been a prevailing fault in almost every big game played in the East and the West. The experts have harped on the failure of the tacklers to bring down their men as in the old days.

In the Princeton-Yale game, three Princeton men had a chance to bring down Aldrich of Yale as he circled the Princeton end for the first touchdown of the game. Two of the Tiger players missed Aldrich entirely, while the third tackler allowed himself to be dragged over the goal line before bringing Aldrich down.

In the old days coaches had the players indulge in tackling practice every day. The tackling dummy was badly treated in the old days. It's different now with the new game. These are the days of the forward passes, shifts and deceptive plays. There is so much more for the player to learn that the coach spends much of the time instructing his players on attack and defense that formerly was devoted to tackling.

Percy Haughton, former coach of Harvard, briefly explains why tackling as an art has suffered. Here is the way he puts it: "When a coach has only a short time to prepare his line of battle, in order to meet the varied attack that he must face, he cannot give too much time to one subject. Tackling was once the big thing in football. It still plays a leading role, but has suffered because coaches can no longer give the necessary time to perfecting that feature of the game."

CAMERA WILL HELP SCOUTING

Asserted Better Line of Information Could Be Secured on Play of Future Opponent.

Football scouting some day will be done by means of a movie camera, is the prediction of P. H. Haskett, Ohio State university photographer, who has been a student of the game for years. Figuring the actual time the ball is in play at four periods of fifteen minutes each at about eleven minutes, Haskett estimates that a complete picture version of the game could be procured for about $135.

With the new movie camera similar in size and action to the better-known high-speed camera in use today, Haskett says a scout could get a much better line on the play of a future opponent by means of the film than by notes alone.

They occupy a small apartment and keep a colored maid. The other morning, when the missus was leaving the house for downtown, a colored woman of robust proportions appeared at the door and asked to see the maid. She was ushered in. That afternoon when the missus returned, she was a bit curious to know who the large party was.

"Oh, that's my cleaning woman," the maid replied.—Indianapolis Star.
